- Event Coordinator- Prof. Shital R. Bedse

Audit Course 4: 217535 II- Intellectual Property Rights and PatentsCourse Objectives:

- To encourage research, scholarship, and a spirit of inquiry
- To encourage students at all levels to develop patentable technologies.
- To provide environment to the students of the Institute for creation, protection, and commercialization of intellectual property and to stimulate innovation

Course Outcomes:

- CO1: Understand the fundamental legal principles related to confidential information, copyright, patents, designs, trademarks and unfair competition
- CO2: Identify, apply and assess principles of law relating to each of these areas of intellectual property
- CO3: Apply the appropriate ownership rules to intellectual property you have been involved in creating

Summary:

The expert session on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and Patents, led by Mr. Parvez Kudrolli, Principal Associate at Khurana & Khurana and IIPRD, provided valuable insights of patents, copyrights, trademarks, and trade secrets.

Key Discussion Points:1. Main IPR Types:

Patents (for inventions), Designs (for product aesthetics), Trademarks (brand identity), Copyrights (for creative works), and Trade Secrets (industrial/business confidentiality).

2. Patents for Inventions:

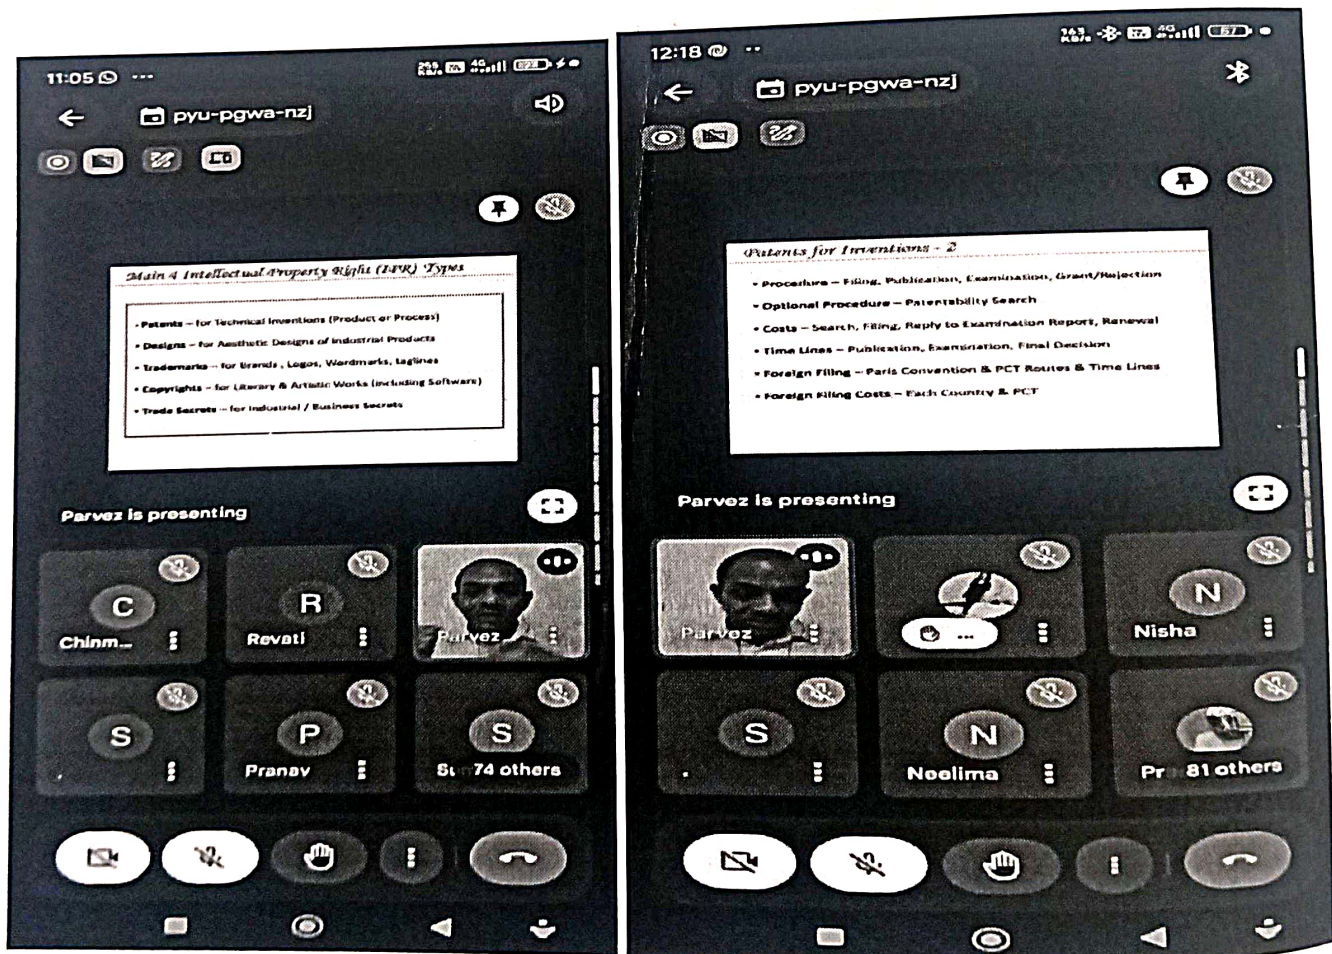

- Patent procedure, optional processes, costs, timelines, and foreign filings (including associated costs) were discussed.
- Clarity on what qualifies as an invention, distinguishing product/system vs. invention.
- Software patents and their challenges were explored.

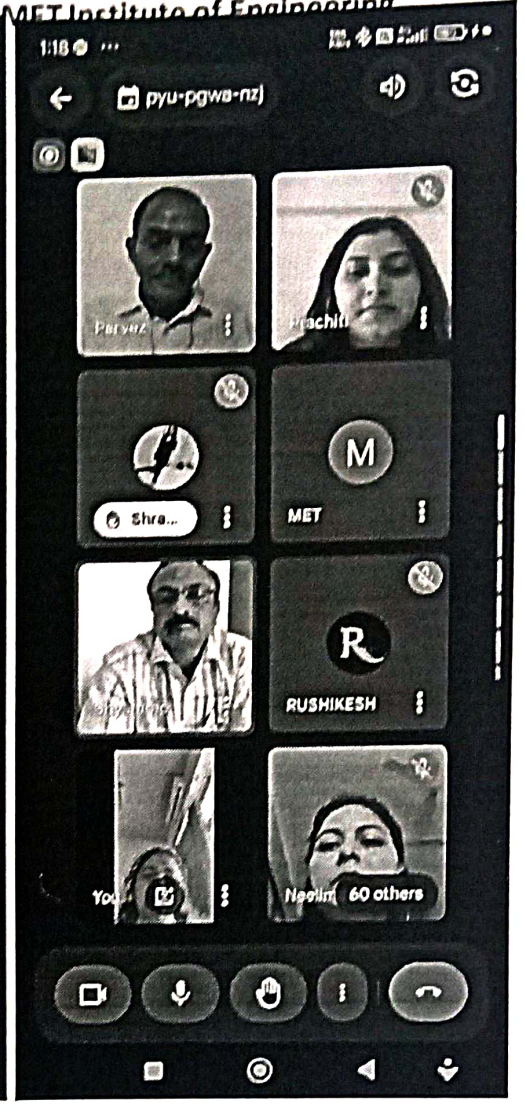

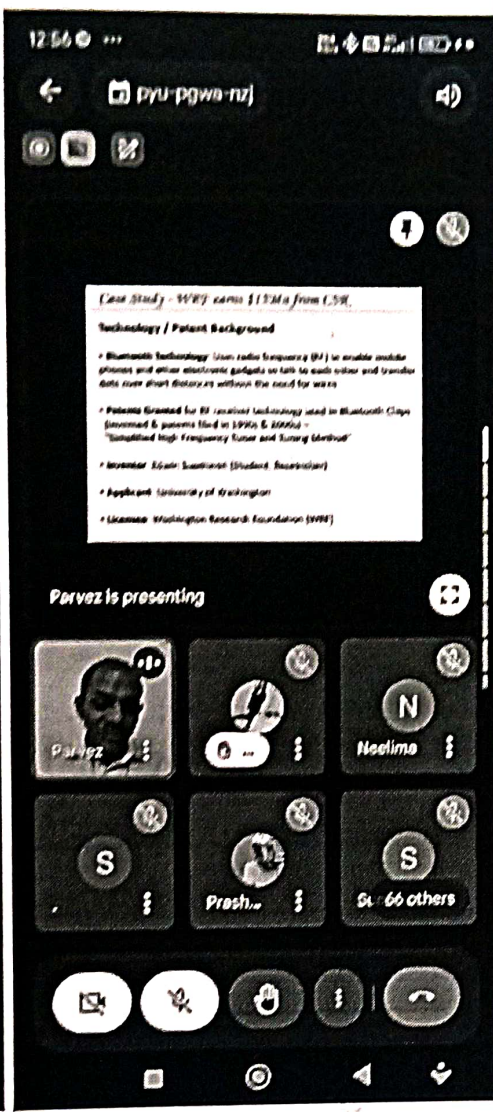

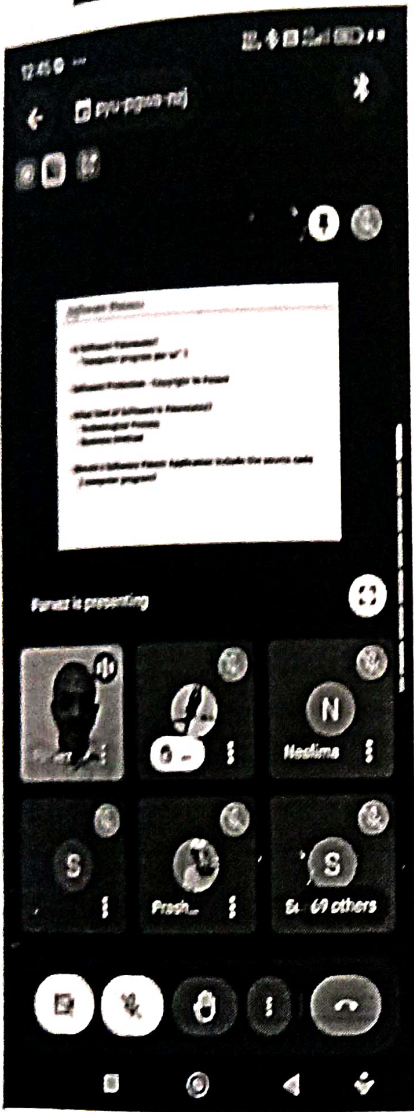

3. Other IPR Protections:

- Copyright registration secures expressed works.
- Trade secrets protect confidential business information.

4. Case Study – WRF’s $15 Million CSR Earnings:

- A real-world example of successful patent commercialization, highlighting the financial potential of strong IP strategies.

Conclusion: The session emphasized the importance of IP protection, effective patenting strategies, and leveraging IPR for financial growth, equipping attendees with practical insights for innovation-driven success.
