

Expert Session Report on Environmental studies(Audit Course-310921B)

Topic: Environmental studies(Audit Course-310921B)

Introduction

Date: April 23, 2025

Time: 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM

Venue: Institute of Engg. Class room no.501 at 5th Floor.

Organizer: MET's Institute of Engineering, Department of MCA

Speaker: Mr. Raundal Amol Kisanrao

Audience: FYMCA students(63 students are present).

The Department of MCA, MET's Institute of Engg, organized an expert talk on Environmental Studies to raise awareness among students and faculty about the current environmental challenges and sustainable solutions. The talk was delivered by Mr. Raundal Amol Kisanrao.

The session began with a welcome speech by Prof.P.D.Jadhav , who highlighted the importance of environmental awareness in today's world and also how it is helpful in academics (Audit Course-310921B). The speaker then took the stage and addressed several pressing environmental issues, including climate change, pollution, deforestation, biodiversity loss, and water scarcity. The interactive session that followed allowed students to pose insightful questions. Topics such as eco-friendly lifestyle choices, policy implementation, and the role of youth in environmental protection were explored in depth. The expert concluded the session by stressing the need for immediate and collective action to combat environmental degradation. He also encouraged students to take up environmental projects and research, and to act as responsible global citizens.

The event ended with a vote of thanks delivered by Janhvi Shirsath, expressing gratitude to the speaker for sharing his valuable knowledge and inspiring the audience.

Conclusion:

The expert talk was highly informative and engaging. It not only enriched the understanding of environmental issues but also motivated participants to think critically and act proactively in safeguarding the environment.
